SURVEY RESPONSE REPORT

11 March 2022 – 15 February 2023

PROJECT NAME:

2023 Outdoor Patio Program

SURVEY QUESTIONS

Q11 | If you could change one thing about the City's patio program, what would that be?

Anonymous

1/12/2023 03:02 PM

More attention to smooth transitions and available space around the patios and over the boardwalks (where are the trees, where are the brick inlays on the sidewalks, how hard is it to go from the sidewalk surface up the bumpy ramp and onto the boardwalk).

Anonymous

1/12/2023 03:01 PM

The board walks are very slippery when wet and can be a tripping hazard

Anonymous

1/12/2023 05:12 PM

That all restaurants/cafes could have one if they wanted. More sidewalk space, less cars!

Anonymous

1/12/2023 03:31 PM

More please! It is also set up brilliantly that the people walk around the patios rather than set out people sitting on the roadway. So much better than Toronto and other areas. A vital element of a vibrant downtown. Also fills in huge-wide Ontario St.

Bring back the art display.

Anonymous

1/12/2023 03:41 PM

no restrictions on the number of vendors

Anonymous

1/12/2023 03:39 PM

I know it is very weather dependent, but we have had great weather into the fall and patios have a take down date. It would be hard to predict but the season could be longer.

Anonymous

1/12/2023 03:46 PM

Could it be extended even further? It really adds life to the downtown.

1/12/2023 03:49 PM

There would be more/bigger, potential for turning certain roads into pedestrian only for the warmer months to encourage more people to walk/eat in the downtown core.

Anonymous 1/12/2023 03:55 PM	Limit the impact on parking and make it only restaurants not cafes.
Anonymous 1/12/2023 04:05 PM	Have it that people actually know how to walk on them and not stop and block people while they are talking to friends and not have people walking and taking up the whole walkway so it's hard for other people to walk.

Anonymous 1/12/2023 05:21 PM	Discontinued
Anonymous 1/12/2023 05:25 PM	The patio should be where the parking spaces are and keep the sidewalks open.
Anonymous 1/12/2023 05:31 PM	As a frequent pedestrian, person with a disability and resident, I really dislike how much sidewalk space the patios take up. I would much prefer if they took up parking spaces in the downtown core.
Anonymous 1/12/2023 05:42 PM	If patios are to remain they should be made permanent with revisions to right of ways.
Anonymous	Better design, too many trip hazards. Once had dog get foot stuck in

I think the patios enhance summer visitors' (and locals as well) experience our city. The loss of parking spaces, however, is a concern when I have business to conduct downtown. I don't know what the solution is.

Anonymous

There shouldn't be any cost to participating restaurants for the patios. The benefits of the patios far out weighs the missed parking spots.

Anonymous

I would like to see Downie St between Ontario and Albert closer to traffic and used for outdoor patios for all restaurants to use.

Anonymous

For years of experience in cities like Halifax, Charlottetown, Bayfield etc...our local family and friends often discussed the NEED for outdoor dining experiences. European cities don't let the parking limitations dictate rich life experiences.

Nothing. Patios are well cared for, maintained and decorated with flowers, lights etcetera. Brings such a lovely and lively presence to the downtown. Makes me want to dine out more often.

Anonymous 1/13/2023 12:41 PM	More of them and reduced fees for already overburdened venues
Anonymous 1/13/2023 12:43 PM	Allowing dogs
Anonymous 1/13/2023 12:48 PM	Just that the patios don't infringe on their neighbours outdoor space causing that business to be overlooked or overshadowed by patio items blocking signage, windows, and window shopping space in front of neighbouring shops.
Anonymous 1/13/2023 12:52 PM	Using valuable parking spaces in the downtown core is my biggest concern.
Anonymous 1/13/2023 12:49 PM	Remove patio extensions and make parking spaces available
Anonymous 1/13/2023 12:54 PM	Safety. Multiple times (at least 5 different incidents) there were people that tripped and smashed their face with lots of blood. Love the patios but do not love having people trip and cut their face open.

Coming from Europe, I find it normal that dining moves outdoors in the summer - all restaurants will do that. City squares will be filled with tables, chairs and sun shades. This adds to the attraction of a town.

Anonymous

1/12/2023 03:42 PM

I really like the expanded patio areas, but noticed they were not always used at certain establishments. I think there should be a fee for the patio permit which should reflect the loss of parking and not be discounted.

Anonymous

1/12/2023 03:53 PM

I believe the patio program gives Stratford a very European flare which I believe attracts visitors and residents alike, especially those who have enjoyed them in famous European cities like Paris, Rome, Barcelona, Athens and so many more. Surrounding them with plants and flowers is wonderful!

Anonymous

1/12/2023 03:49 PM

I think a public multi level parking garage needs to be built close to the downtown core to help with our parking needs. You could charge a reasonably priced monthly fee to people who work and live downtown. And a daily rate for visitors, as then they don't have to worry about tipping up a meter constantly.

The businesses are being financially ripped off by the City of Stratford as they pay large fees for the use of the sidewalk in the summer and are responsible for the cleaning of the sidewalks in winter....the boardwalks take up too many parking spots in downtown Stratford and the boardwalks are slippery and dangerous for residents with walking issues. You need to ensure that the restaurant choosing the patio is open for a required number of hours so that parking is not taken when the restaurant is only open in the evenings, at the end of the week! Furthermore Stratford has offered many outdoor eating options, thus sidewalk patios are less important!

why are these patio extensions only made available to restaurants? They should also be available to retail stores downtown who would also like more square footage of retail space but do not currently have it. restaurants knew that they had limited outdoor patio space when they located where they are but now are being given free extra space. retail stores in the same situation should also be given free space if restaurants are getting it. I do feel that there should be a cost to any business or restaurant that wants a patio extension in order to make up for the lost parking revenue if spaces are taken away. It is not fair to the city's taxpayers or other downtown businesses who rely on these parking spaces for their customers or taxpayers that use the parking to shop downtown that these parking spaces are basically given free to restaurants. It is a huge cost to the city in terms of lost parking revenue which affects the amount of money that goes into the parking reserve fund and other parking initiatives.

It is one of the things that makes Stratford different and better and welcoming and it would be a real shame if this COVID-era program was discontinued. I think this is one of the positive legacies of COVID and would never have been initiated or made possible without the pandemic. The only change I would make is that the authorities strictly enforce noise bylaws as it pertains to vehicles as well as the Highway Traffic Act to ensure the atmosphere on Ontario St. is as positive as possible. Finally, Stratford is famous for its innovation, ideas and creating an positive visitor experience but as a resident - I also love the patios - they are not just for visitors. In regards to the parking Rouyn-Noranda did a very detailed study and found that the restaurant boardwalks actually increased foot traffic downtown and the loss of parking is not fiscally impactful. I have that study if it is helpful.

1/13/2023 12:30 PM It appears that there is TOO much focus on Downtown Stratford. Let's beautify the rest of the city, extend beyond Huron/Ontario &; bring all that wonderful character to other parts that need it. There are cute caf  s and bakeries outside of the downtown core that should participate and be encouraged to participate. It will expand on where people can go, lots of these places are in residential neighborhoods that could use a local patio for residents to walk to enjoy. It may also help alleviate some of the traffic that will no doubt increase once the Festival kicks off.

Anonymous
1/13/2023 12:36 PM My additional comments would be; we want our city to foster a culture that encourages a healthy lifestyle, invites family and friends to gather for meals outside and won't allow the naysayers to overreact to these opportunities.

Anonymous
1/13/2023 12:45 PM I understand some businesses do not like the loss of parking, but I have only heard positive comments from my customers about the larger patios. There also has not been an increase in complaints about parking. In the end, people attract people. Cars do not attract people.

The outdoor patios encourage a sense of community where families and friends can meet and enjoy a meal or drink together in the outdoors. I think every restaurant should be given the opportunity to have a patio, and should be given a form as an offer to have a patio, as it provides more seating, and a better view of Stratford for the large volume of tourists Stratford experiences every summer. The first couple of years should be free for new businesses to obtain a patio.

- We have raised concerns two years in a row with Chris Bantock about the lack of consideration made for neighbouring businesses when patio permits are given. There must be a conversation about the bumpouts... they negatively impact foot traffic and visibility to the immediately neighbouring businesses because they extend foot traffic flow past the front doors of the businesses located beside. Our business has experienced this on Wellington St and I see it daily on Ontario St. In addition, patio design should not be permitted to extend above the height of store signage...again, this impacts street visibility for the immediately neighbouring businesses.

- Encourage restaurants to have "patio" and "inside" prices, with the patio prices slightly higher. The surcharge would have to go to a mandatory fund for maintenance and improvements to each patio, or directly to the servers who have to walk further, open doors and often negotiate steps when they serve outside. It's a harder job to serve on a patio.

There was nothing but positive feedback from customers and visitors to the city over the last 3 seasons regarding the increased welcome and beauty added to the core with the patio programme. It would be disappointing to see the City Staff and Council make the decision regarding patios based on parking. This has become a red herring in moving Stratford forward in creative, inviting ways to both residents and visitors to the city alike. To have made the investments made in the patio programme (including the pop up patios) only to consider discontinuing the programme would be a large waste of money, time and resources. In 3 years we never received one detrimental comment about the patios, and the hopes this would become a downtown Stratford staple to enhance the local and visitor experience.

Anonymous 1/13/2023 07:20 PM	I love how these patios have added something more to downtown. Having the patio options are a great addition to the restaurants, and how they look at night, adds more charm to downtown.
Anonymous 1/13/2023 07:39 PM	There is no use for them anymore. Ugly and takes up parking spaces.
Anonymous 1/13/2023 07:48 PM	I would rather give up the Albert St parking lot and dedicate that space to outdoor eating (as well as Market Square), and return the parallel parking spots on the other streets in front of the businesses I'd like to visit to actual parking spots. I have patronized one of these patios, and I did not enjoy the experience at all., so I am not at all keen to do it again. I have enjoyed the more private outdoor eating areas at several restaurants which are NOT on sidewalks. There are so many other picturesque spots and shaded/sheltered places to sit more comfortably and enjoy food than right out in the middle of people trying simply to get their business completed.
Anonymous 1/13/2023 07:46 PM	The walk ways should be built better. These walks way were originally built to be a 1 year solution and the wear and tear on taking them in and out shows. The opportunity these bring to the city and local businesses is great, but if they choose to continue the program work should be put in to upgrade the wall ways.
Anonymous 1/13/2023 08:14 PM	Tourists (and locals) love patios. Many communities were doing what Stratford did long before Covid. Anonymous 1/14/2023 02:21 AM	The extensions and there upkeep, installation and storage should be paid by the restaurants that benefit and the revenue lost to the city from the parking spaces should also be paid by the restaurants.
	There is significant value for those businesses. It is also a competitive advantage. I would certainly think
Anonymous 1/14/2023 07:12 AM	I think they're good but shouldn't just be handed out for a low rate because you happen to have a sidewalk in front of your business. Make them a bit more expensive do that it becomes a business decision.
Anonymous 1/14/2023 07:32 AM	I don't think the businesses should have to pay extra for the space, I think it'll be a huge drive for the city. Kingston ON has a downtown program where half of the main road downtown closes for pedestrians and patio extensions. There were yard games and selfie areas huge draw to the city. Also Barrie had an similar outdoor patio program it was pedestrian friendly & allowed restaurants to expand.

Anonymous 1/14/2023 09:08 AM	This is one of the positive things that have happened in Stratford due to the COVID pandemic - the patio program! As a resident and frequent user of our beautiful parks system and restaurant/cafe outdoor patios, I appreciate 'the Montreal/European flavour' in our community. There are many benefits of sitting on an outdoor patio on a lovely spring evening - appreciating the architectural landscape, enjoying the 'buzz' of people walking (the strollers, the shoppers, the dog walkers), choosing the wide variety of food and getting out of my house environment (work-at-home in front of a computer most of the day and only 2 people in our household). There are many social, health benefits, economic and community inclusion benefits through this impressive outdoor patio program spawned by COVID. It's my understanding that we - as a community - will continue to learn how to live with infectious respiratory viruses. Outdoor patios are just one of the solutions and options for people to enjoy the outdoors and interacting in our community that brings the 'world to us' through the arts and restaurants. Keep the outdoor patio program going. Do an evaluation involving the diverse users in the summer season and go beyond this on-line survey.
Anonymous 1/14/2023 09:00 AM	If patios are taking up parking space they need to cover the revenue lost for those spaces. Parking is already an issue and if the city is losing those spots they should not be losing out on that money too. A restaurant with 20 patio seats would be pulling in at least an additional $2500 in revenue a week.
Anonymous 1/14/2023 08:55 AM	Love sitting on the patios enjoying the outdoors.

1/14/2023 09:40 AM the additional revenue space. I also think city parking lots need to be better serviced to encourage people to park there, especially the free lots. No one I know and have spoken to wants to park in a lot hosting a homeless encampment. Other public safety measures should be taken such as better lighting, smooth walking surfaces, and even limited/focused video surveillance with clear signage letting the public know the area is under surveillance. Locals are more concerned about the convenience lost in losing parking spaces, but visitors (and people who work in city centre) are concerned about safety - both personal and their property. This plus more care taken to extend sidewalks over uneven ground, and you have my full support as a local resident to continue the program.

This patio program is super important. My husband is a chef, so I know it helps businesses. I wish there were more of them. If we close the downtown near city hall to cars, just foot traffic, it would be cool to have all patios March to October at least. .I would allow patios to stay open all winter!!! Covid is not over. 1/14/2023 10:53 AM Walking around them was difficult, sometimes having to go on road. Caused more loitering smokers on sidewalks.

Anonymous If there is a patio program it should be available to all restaurants in city limits not just downtown .. and they should pay for all costs related to the outdoor space (fencing etc) plus pay to use public land . I feel for the retailers as they count on the parking for customers to shop .. many times I pass on going downtown as no parking available that is close to the store . I don't think taking away parking is fair for them . And before 2020 I am not sure this would even come up in discussion. Why are we not going back to pre 2020 rules on patios if there are no restrictions any more . There were still many patios downtown and ones that restaurants paid good money to build . I found the meters confusing with new app .. can you still use coins too ? Just as an aside comment to downtown issues . When is free parking ? Just Saturdays in winter ? Not well publicized in social media .

Anonymous As a response to Covid OK but enough already!

1/14/2023 11:05 AM

Anonymous As a resident I find lack of parking due to patios taking spots (and not everyone can use Cooper site) deters me from coming downtown to eat or shop. As an example I recently changed our pharmacy and didn't even consider Sinclairs due to the parking issue. I think with the current covid situation restaurants can return to their business model before.

I really enjoyed everything about the patios in Stratford. It gives Stratford a very European/Montreal feel to the city and enhances the experience. As a resident, it's great seeing people one knows when walking by...a quick chat, a friendly hello, nice to see neighbours alive and well, as well as a very nice small town experience. Also, patios seem to bring the downtown alive - outside talking, laughter. Downside... large trucks on Ontario St... especially pig trucks... not a pleasant outdoor smell with food. Any chance of rerouting these trucks around Stratford???

It is puzzling to me, as a resident of the City of Stratford, that the municipal government does a lot of hand-wringing over what happens on Huron Street and Ontario Street (e.g. parades) because they are considered "provincial highways", yet there is no hesitation to route pedestrian traffic onto the asphalt and protect people with only wooden handrails. I have never liked the idea of giving over a public throughway (i.e. a sidewalk) to the benefit of private interests. One would think that the entire economy hinges on a handful of restaurants. Surprise me, and have more consideration for the people who live here.

Anonymous While the patio program made sense during the height of Covid - allowing restaurants to stay open and patrons to dine safely - the time has passed. Now, it significantly limits critical parking in the downtown core. I can imagine that non- restaurant businesses feel their post-Covid interests (parking for customers, clear sidewalks) have been negatively impacted while restaurants are being given special considerations.

Anonymous See above. More patios and entertainment bring vibrancy to downtown core. Shut the whole downtown off to cars for july and august and make it all pedestrian and patios like European cities.

Anonymous Loving patios with and without kids...patio potential endless and exciting..Many European cities, have closed streets at certain times, some with shuttles from car parks or carriages in winter to downtown massive Christmas markets- 100's vendors-decor with 1000's of lights. Also some cities close downtown streets for larger on street patios, music festivals on Friday, Saturday eves...becomes an evening walk about experience, eat, enjoy entertainment, shop, socialize on patios, under tents and ...it's safe with no traffic. So much more potential for our downtown between 6pm and 10pm, and on weekends ...in the winter too!!! Love this city- let's keep exploring wonderful creative ways for us locals and our wonderful guests and tourists to enjoy and celebrate its restaurants, shops and wonderful core!!!

Anonymous 1. Put more parking to replace the ones taken over by the patio. 2. Make the walk way wider to allow two people to walk through 3. Merge the ends better with the side walk to make for a better and natural transition for path of travel 4. More decorations to the patio walking paths for each business to add beauty to the downtown area

The city patios add so much. They get people outside and enjoying the environment. They may be easier for some to access. They add floor space to businesses and foster a better income in peak season. They create a festive and social vibe on the street. They may feel like a safer place for those not wanting to dine inside yet. If only we could close Ontario Street for the summer and make it a pedestrian space.

Can't eat inside or outside if there is no place to park. Come enjoy our patio but sorry, it's actually your parking space. I don't like eating in a perking lot with car exhaust fumes everywhere. This is only a benefit to our city. If you are talking about drawing visitors/tourists to the downtown core, this would do it. Most people look for this when type of atmosphere when travelling. It brings people together and makes people happy. There's nothing better than looking down a street at night and all the patio lights are lit and the street is buzzing with people. There is ample parking elsewhere that can accommodate for the spaces used up. If we want to keep our downtown core thriving, we need to allow patios as a major source of income during tourist season. And the locals very much enjoy it as well!!

My wife and I have enjoyed several patio dinners each summer since they began. I think it adds a great atmosphere. While parking is negatively impacted to a degree, we weren't too inconvenienced. The Erie Street parking lot has always had open spaces when we needed and walking through Allen's Alley is a great shortcut. I'm not sure, however, if it's that much of a financial benefit to businesses if it costs them so much to 'license' a patio for drinking, etc. Also, staffing the outdoor spaces may be more challenging. I guess it's up to the businesses to decide if they really found a benefit from the patio spaces. We spoke at length to one restaurant owner who was very annoyed at the cost of the license and the way the seating/alcohol licenses were handled.

1/16/2023 09:41 AM

The City policies for patios should go back to their previous program, pre-COVID. The number of people visiting Stratford has continued to rise. There should be no reason at this time that a restaurant needs to inconvenience or put anyone on the sidewalks of Stratford at any fear or use valuable parking for pedestrian, unsafe walkways. Most of these businesses have existing private patios, example: Market Square, a coffee shop that takes up parking that could be more useful to her potential customers. Others need to go the route of the City and make the application process yearly for sidewalk patios. If there is anything that could be done by the City, perhaps they should lessen the fees for street patios to businesses. That could work as a compensation for this year.

Anonymous

1/16/2023 10:02 AM

I only replied "neutral" because it's a bit tricky for us. We know that most people love the patios, and we've enjoyed them ourselves, so we see them as a positive thing for the city. Our only concern with them is that they block visibility to the businesses on the other side. We've had feedback from customers who say that they saw the patios, and either couldn't see that there was anything on the other side worth visiting, or didn't feel comfortable passing the busy patios, so they turned around and went back the other way. Thankfully, those customers still managed to find us later, but we wonder how many didn't. I'm not sure that there's anything that can be done about it--it's just part of the package of pros and cons that come with any situation. I'm not sure if a sign can be placed at each end: "Lots of great businesses ahead!" or something? Either way, the patios are good for the city as a whole, and we're thankful to see a busy, vibrant downtown with bustling sidewalks and happy people, so we'd like to see them stay.

These patios are an eyesore, a safety hazard, and legitimately deter retail shoppers by taking up retail parking spaces. They are unsafe. Disabled people have to cross poorly filled in flower beds and gravel infills to get around it. They negatively affect neighboring businesses. They trap garbage and debris. They cause customers to be distracted as they approach and miss retail stores directly adjacent to the bump out. They take up valuable parking. They are an eye sore. Covid restrictions are over and so should this temporary program to help out restaurants. This program causes harm to lots of businesses but only directly helps a couple of restaurants and not the downtown shopping and eating experience as a whole.

Wondering if smoking is allowed on the patios. If so, people walking by may be offended and not appreciate the smoke. Usually, smoking is to be quite a distance away from the entrance of a building and it would affect the others outside eating. I have been in that situation and not liked it. When the area is full, it would be difficult to get away from. I realize it gives the businesses more clients, but at what cost to others with the smoking, noise and loss of parking.

The Covid pandemic is NOT OVER, despite governments and many business interests Canada-wide pretending otherwise. The most important reason for continuing with the patio program is to KEEP US AND OUR VISITORS SAFE. Certainly, some of the patios and their walkarounds were initially put in a place in a hurry (in the belief they would be only until the disease disappeared), and such areas could definitely use some paint and other cosmetic upgrades if they are to become permanent, to be in sync with our visually beautiful downtown core, benefitting residents and visitors alike.

2023 Outdoor Patio Input : Survey Report for 11 March 2022 to 15 February 2023

the loss of parking spaces in the downtown core and the impact that displaced vehicles has on surrounding private property owners. Some restaurants go to great expense to have and maintain parking and patio space available on their own properties. It doesn't seem fair to remove shared public parking spaces and to allow use of the public sidewalk in front of their businesses when they selected these locations knowing the limits. Again, I really enjoy the patios though. I just wonder if this program is fair to businesses that have taken on the expense to have a patio and parking on their own property, not the city's. Businesses participating MUST pay for the benefit(!) but I do feel the program is good for the community overall.

- I love this program. I didn't like all the traffic when out on a patio before the walkways. Now it feels like more of a patio vs sitting in the side of a busy street. The large patios give more capacity to busy restaurants during tourist season. So great to offer for tourists and residents. For the few parking spots we lost, it's not a concern As there is a complete lack of spots in the summer, a few more spots would not make a difference. Something that started as a solution during COVID that we should keep for businesses, residents and tourists.

I would love to see unused public space or patio spaces for unleashed buildings open to the public to drop in and have a seat. We don't really have that other than market square. For example, the unused patio space in front of the former Downie Street Burger could be utilised.

1. It would be interesting to know if the patios have increased business. Have they attracted additional patrons or has the number of patrons simply shifted outdoors? 2. Would restaurants support the idea of a two-price system -- a price for eating/drinking inside and a higher "patio price" to account for the extra work that servers have to do by going outside -- up and down steps and stairs, opening doors, hard concrete, etc. It strikes me that the patios probably have somewhat slower service, since servers are usually servicing tables that are further from the kitchen. Their wages should reflect that extra work. The premium price for patio service would help solve that.

In such a beautiful city, it is so nice to be able to enjoy amazing local food outside. Separating the customers sitting on the patio from traffic with the walkway is brilliant and the walkways are beautifully built.

I would strongly encourage the city to consider even expanding the program. Certainly do NOT restrict it - it provides such a value and draw for the downtown core. My partner and I went down at least weekly to sit on a patio, which we would not have done if we had to sit indoors. We enjoyed it so much we deliberately had family and friends from out of town come just so we could sit on patios and enjoy the downtown.

Please Consider providing free parking or reserved limited parking for residents (like drop off pickup zone) in summertime for banking and supporting dt business for locals (sometimes we need to drop in for a quick time and leave on a lunch break etc)

Anonymous 2/01/2023 09:29 PM	The patio extensions are a wonderful idea, especially in the warmer months when it's nice to be seated outside. Its nice as an option when visiting your favourite restaurant that may not have a permanent patio already. It adds a unique feel to the downtown core! There is plenty of parking within walking distance downtown as it is, and the abundance of patios is a very worthwhile trade to lose a few parking spots.
Anonymous 2/01/2023 09:33 PM	Patios , bring , another element to dining . A great asset to this beautiful city. Many cities and countries live outside for dining as long as they can . Tourists and residents love this element as well . My husband I , frequent our local downtown establishments often , and enjoy every patio . Dining on a patio , whether it be for a lunch or watching the sunset over our beautiful court house. Nothing compares to this .

Anonymous 2/01/2023 09:47 PM	The outdoor patios can be nice where there are wider sidewalks (example Ont St) I think some restaurants struggle with getting enough staff & is extra work to serve those outside. Are the outdoor patios accessible?
Anonymous 2/01/2023 09:54 PM	I think it's a great idea to help restaurants increase guest capacity. It also provides more accessible seating for wheelchair users at most locations.
Anonymous 2/01/2023 10:11 PM	All of my many experiences at these patios have been wonderful. We have so many great restaurants to enjoy.
Anonymous 2/01/2023 10:15 PM	Patios are the only reason we stay in Stratford when we go out. Other years we would go to a bigger city so we could enjoy sitting outside.

Anonymous	Question 9 is unclear. Do you mean vehicular parking spaces in a certain area? Many cities are doing this to provide the "third spaces" in urban centres for residents, visitors, etc. but do not frame it as a "taking up" parking space but as an addition of public space. The success of a downtown is not contingent on providing vehicular parking.

I think that the patios add to our downtown core creating a more vibrant experience for tourists as well as residents. Patios are the best meeting spot for friends and having this extra space allows more people to get together and spend their money locally.

I found them very awkward to navigate walking by -- it narrowed the walking space so it was very crowded, and there was little space between the walking space and people seated at the outdoor patio -- which I found ironic, because the outdoor patios were a by-product of pandemic precautions to be outdoors with other people, but the patios only brought me into closer contact with people on the patio because they were so close to the walking space, and the walking space was so narrow, there was no option for reasonable distance between people the way there is when just walking along the usual sidewalk space. The patios were way too big for the sidewalk space, the walking space became way too narrow to be comfortable to navigate, not to mention the awkward transitions from the boardwalks to the sidewalks (bumps and tripping hazards). And not great as someone walking by feeling caught between traffic on one side and patios/patio patrons on the other. Patios, in my opinion, shouldn't be given the whole sidewalk like that, and parking space downtown is limited enough already, so taking parking spaces away didn't help with usability, either -- it all created congestion and crowding and inconvenience, in my opinion. Without actually helping with social distancing.

In no way should costs be passed onto the tax base and while on the topic of costs all store fronts should be responsible for their own snow removal to the roadway so that it can be removed from the downtown area and fined accordingly if not completed.

Close down (some) downtown streets and make them entirely walkable. Increase foot traffic which will benefit local businesses, reduce noise from automobiles and improve safety for pedestrians.

I would love to see the restaurants in market square have a 'market feel' patio space. In many larger cities they have high traffic streets closed off (for the summer season) to vehicles. Thus way, people can walk around, shop and eat without worrying about vehicles. Our city could thrive on this! Wonderful for tourists and families alike.
